

Documents that are no longer current, or not being used in current research and development.

Superseded Standards — versioned standards and guidelines where only the last version is authoritative—are in a separate collection.

U.S. Student Financial Aid is a separate collection combining current and historical documents. Every version of a document is retained for possible audit or litigation.

Archived documents are organized by publisher.