

NSLP Board Member Elected to NCAN Board

Brett Lief, NSLP Board of Directors Member, has been elected to serve on the National College Access Network (NCAN) Board of Directors. NCAN's mission is to build, strengthen, and empower communities committed to college access and success so that all students, especially those underrepresented in postsecondary education, can achieve their educational dreams.

Lief said, "It is an honor to serve as a board member of the National College Access Network. This Board seat supports a career long passion of promoting and removing the barriers to postsecondary education faced by millions of Americans. The NCAN Board participation complements the mission of the NSLP Board and the student and school services offered by its Inceptia division."

"All qualified students regardless of their background deserve an opportunity to achieve their higher education goals," said Randy Heesacker, president and chief executive officer at NSLP. "By having Brett serve on both boards, I look forward to developing a strong partnership between NCAN and NSLP's Inceptia division to help provide greater opportunities for our youth to achieve their educational dreams and succeed."
