Public Insight Corporation (US)

ARCHIVES

“The concept behind Public Insight began in April 2012. We started with an unfunded project to simply examine what might be possible using public data. As analytics software entrepreneurs, we were enamored with the concept of putting together these pieces into a unified platform. We put together a proof-of-concept that was shown to a focus group of municipal government leaders in August 2012. ... The company was incorporated in October 2012 and development began shortly thereafter.”
